

DAN SAY PE, SE | PRINCIPAL

Dan Say has been practicing structural engineering for over thirty years. Dan brings a wide variety of experience and a strong appreciation for architecture and construction to his projects. His clients value his ability to integrate structural design with other disciplines. Though Dan's passion lies in historic preservation and renovation, he also has extensive experience with new construction, seismic design and forensic investigation. He is an honorary member of the American Institute of Architects (AIA) Seattle, and is an active past-board member of the Washington Trust for Historic Preservation.
